SUMMER

DECEMBER 2021

A LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Photos by Koby Einstein

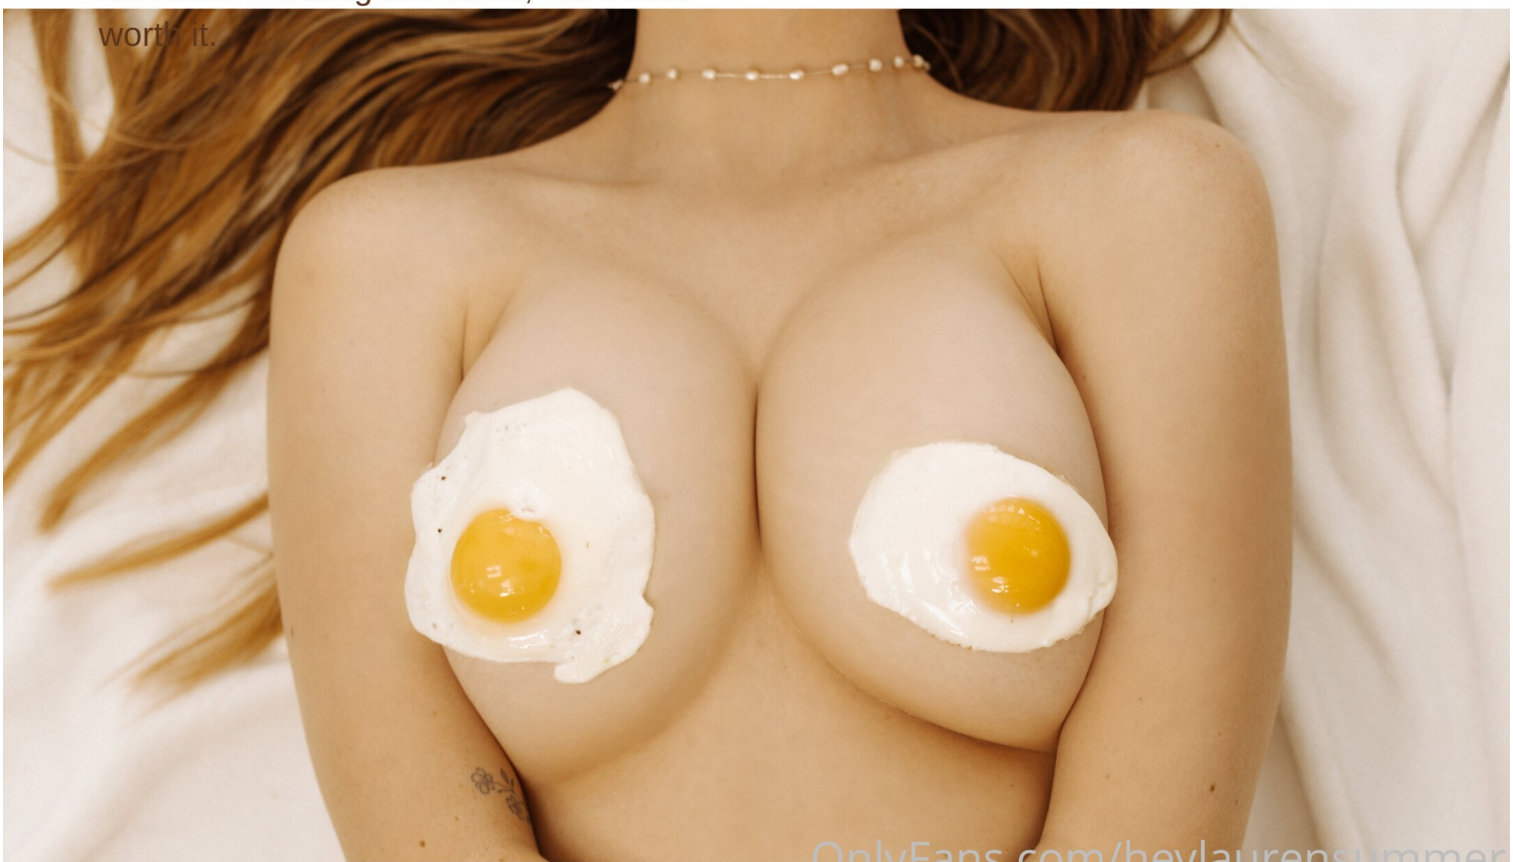

IT'S that time of the year again. It's hard to believe yet another year has passed. Another year of ups and down, new opportunities, loss, confusion, closed and opened doors; emotional whiplash, really.

For this issue, I went to my photographer and told him that for the first time in a while, I'm happy. I wanted the photos in this issue to convey that. To be warm, wholesome, cozy, and just feel like you're hanging out in a mountain cabin with me. It was cold, and I definitely got sick after shooting this issue, but it was worth it.

GRAB YOUR HOT COCOA AND UNWRAP THE DECEMBER ISSUE!

The next issue of Summer Magazine will be next year, in 2022. That is so hard for me to wrap my head around. I cannot wait to show you what 2022 is going to mean for Summer Magazine, but I can tell you this much. It will be different, it will be bold, it will push boundaries, it will travel the world, it will try new things, and above all, it's gonna be fucking hot. See you next year! You'd better be ready.

Lauren S.
